

TEXAS BANK AND TRUST

COPPA NOTICE

Texas Bank and Trust complies with the Federal requirements of the Children's Online Privacy Protection Act (COPPA) which applies to the online collection of personal information from children under the age of 13 by commercial websites.

The privacy of visitors to our website is of utmost importance to us. Texas Bank and Trust does not collect any identifying information about visitors to our site, including visitors to the Cool Kids Clubhouse page. Texas Bank and Trust Company does use standard software to collect non-identifying information about our visitors, such as:

- Date and time our site was accessed
- Originating IP address (a numeric address given to servers connected to the Internet)
- Web browser used
- City, State, and Country

The bank uses this information to create summary statistics and to determine the level of interest in information available on our site.

The Cool Kids Clubhouse section of Texas Bank and Trust's website offers educational and informational content to children. In compliance with the COPPA, Texas bank and Trust does not require children to reveal any information that could personally identify them, and will not require as a condition of participation in an activity that a child disclose more info than is reasonably necessary to participate in such activity. If a child chooses to provide us with personally identifying information, such as through an email, it will only be used to respond to the writer's question(s) or request(s). The information will not be retained, used for another purpose, or shared with third parties.
